SHOULD ASSIST THE SUFFERING FAMILIES

Janesville Ought to Do Its Share for the Widows and Orphans at Cherry Valley.

Down at Cherry Valley, Illinois, buried five hundred feet below the surface of the ground, lie the bodies of some three hundred miners—men who died risking their lives in the depths of the earth that their wives and children might have bread and butter and a place to live. Men who left their homes last Saturday, strong and sturdy, and a few short hours afterwards were struggling against the awful fire damps and gases for their lives in the burning mine. Way below the surface of the earth they gave up their lives while above them their wives and children knelt praying at the mouth of their loved ones might escape. There is no hope now. The mines have been sealed. The fate of the men who may have survived is not known. They are dead. Their blackened corpses lie below the earth and above them rages a fire which threatens to consume even the bodies themselves. Sorrow is in the little mining community. The widows and orphans are bereft of those whom they looked to for support. They must face life again in a new condition. No matter with whom the fault lies the awful calamity has swept over the little mining village and it is to the world at large that the appeal for aid, for financial support, has gone forth. Christian people shoulder at the awful fate of the men. Christian people sorrow with the widows and orphans and Janesville should play its part by liberal contribution to the fund started yesterday by the Gazette with $10 for their relief. These subscriptions will be forwarded as soon as possible to the Red Cross society or distribution. Let it be a liberal sum.

The following subscriptions have been received: Miss Hattie Leffingwell, $1; A. Wilkinson, $1; Gazette Pub. Co., $10.

Jahu DeWitt Miller, Noted Platform Speaker, Pleased Large Audience With Philosophy and Wit.

John DeWitt Miller, philosopher, story-teller, commander of terse and graphic English, and widely known as one of the most original and interesting of the platform speakers, delivered a lecture on "The Uses of Hell" at the Cargill Methodist church last evening and more than pleased the large audience present. His stern and forbidding exterior gives double value to the current of fun and humor which is constantly eddying about the profound considerations of his discourse, and he takes the audience off its feet in this particular lecture when he opens with the proposition that if, as has been claimed, he is presenting an argument for his own behalf, he is also pleading for a great portion of humanity, largely represented, he does not hesitate to say, among the listeners sitting before him.

17 Keepers Fined $11,425 for Defying Option Law.

Belvidere, Ill., Nov. 17.—The largest aggregate of fines ever assessed in any city since the local option law went into effect was imposed when Judges De Wolf of this city and Heck-horn of Rockford fined 17 keepers of soft drink places the sum of $11,425 and sentenced each of the offenders to jail for from thirty to ninety days.

The full sentences were to be suspended if the fines were paid, but only six of the keepers took advantage of the provision, and 11 of them are now confined in the county jail.

The suits have been vigorously and relentlessly prosecuted by State's Attorney Patrick H. O'Donnell, who has made good his promise to close every soft drink place in the city where a government license was held.

POCKET IN A HAT

Case to Hold Papers and Cigars Fits
Inside the Crown.

An ingenious and useful invention is the article-holder for hats devised by a Pittsburg man. This is a case much like the crown of the hat and is convenient for carrying papers, cigars or any of the other little things usually carried in the pockets. An arched wire frame fits inside the perspiration band of the hat and slides into the crown, not touching the top. The framework has a yoke, to which the case is attached and the spring support prevents the contents of the case from being bruised, bent or crushed in any way. Though this device is useful for anyone, it is particularly convenient for policemen or other men whose pockets are hard to reach. Under the necessity of keeping his coat buttoned a policeman will find it very handy to get at his reference book or to stow away a clear acquaintance gives him by merely taking off his hat.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist.

IMPORTANCE OF THOROUGH CHEWING.

A man without teeth was advised to eat hard bread, largely corn, which crumbles readily. He slept two hours longer and his health improved generally. Chewing is the best exercise it has a soothing effect. Enough has been said about mixing of saliva with the food, but too much cannot be said of the importance of thorough chewing. The Napoleons, the Morgans and the Edisons have well-filled cheeks and square jaws, the result of thorough chewing. The boy who lives on mush and pie and pudding will make a "pud-ding-head" man. The man who wins usually has the "bull-dog jaw"—which is not denying the supremacy of mind or soul. The body is the expression of the real man, and firmness is a moral quality. The relation between eating and character is intimate as a man's eats he thinks. A nervous person eats hurriedly, and hurried eating begets nervousness.

Sweeney. The lecture was a most interesting one, and was well attended. Mrs. Sweeney, who is a well-known pianist and composer, gave a glowing solo recital and a sextette composed of Mrs. J. S. Taylor, Miss Cora Anderson, Miss Blanche Sweeney, Miss Gladys Hodges, A. P. Lovejoy and Prof. J. B. Taylor rendered several excellent numbers. The next lecture will be given on Tuesday, November 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harris.

CHAIR AN IRONING-BOARD

Seat and Back Firm, Board When Straightened Into One Piece.

One of the most ingenious inventions for housework has recently patented is the combination rocking chair and ironing-board designed by a Texas woman. This seems to solve the problem other inventors have been working on, of what to do with the ironing-board when it is not in use. The seat and back of the chair are hinged to a board which extends across the front legs, and both are detachable and fold down and back into the chair. When it is desired to use the chair for ironing the board is turned over so that it rests on the ends of the rockers and the top of the back rests. The seat and back are then straightened out till they form one long board and are held in position by a support which is hinged to the back and folds down behind it when the device is used as a chair. This gives a firm, broad surface on which to iron, the end of the board forming the chair back being tapered as is the end of an ordinary ironing-board.

KEEPS ICE BILLS DOWN

Wall Bracket Outside Keeps Jars of Water Cool and Safe.

An ingenious device has been used recently by a Pittsburgh man to keep his ice bills low. He has used it to keep his drinking water cool without keeping it on ice or putting ice in it, but the same idea may be turned to advantage in many other ways and will be found an economical one. Metal or wooden racks are fastened on the wall of the house just outside the windows. These racks hold bottles or other receptacles that can be filled with water or anything that is to be kept cold, but not necessarily ice cold.

BOTTLE CANNOT FALL OUT.

In summer there is usually enough breeze to keep water at a drinkable temperature and in the cooler months it needs no ice. Indeed, on some days it will freeze itself, but it can be quickly melted again. On these occasions, however, care should be taken or the glass will be broken by the expansion of the contents. The rack does away with the chances of the bottles falling, as they are likely to do when simply put out on the window sill.

GOV. DAVIDSON. ISSUES THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—Gov. Davidson today issued the following proclamation designating Thursday, Nov. 25, as Thanksgiving day:

"It is well to live a rich, full life, and for its attainment, it is good now and then to pause and consider our circumstances, to review our resources and to plan for their greater effectiveness."

"In the productivity of nature we are now rich in the fruits of the year. Commercial and industrial prosperity have returned. Peace and good will toward each other abide with us and we are working harmoniously together for the realization of our material, social and spiritual ideals."

"It is fitting that we should give a day to the appreciation of what we have done and to plan for the future."

"Therefore by the authority of law and in harmony with the proclamation of the president of the United States, I, J. O. Davidson, governor of the state of Wisconsin, designate Thursday, Nov. 25, as Thanksgiving day, and recommend that its usual customs be observed throughout the state."

"JAMES O. DAVIDSON."

TAFT OR ROOSEVELT

The statement has been made that the efforts to discredit President Taft and his administration have for their object the return of Roosevelt to leadership in 1912. That there is more to this proposition than appears on the surface is evident from the following extract from a Wall street financial letter. The writer, who is a conservative banker, believes that the nation is threatened with too much centralization of power, and that the people are restless on this account. It will be time enough to talk about Taft's successor after the man has had a chance. The letter says:

"The president has just finished a tour of 13,000 miles throughout the country, traversing the populous districts of all sections. He has thus come in close touch with political sentiment, and has evidently found the so-called 'Roosevelt policies' popular. Having been elected on promises to carry out these policies, it is to be expected that he will more or less favor legislation unacceptable to corporations and that agitation on those lines will be renewed when congress opens."

"To the disinterested observer this is not altogether surprising. A strong hostile public opinion has unfortunately been created against our large corporations, chiefly because of abuses incidental to their recent rapid growth. It will be conceded that these corporations possess enormous power, and that by means of further combination they might be able to exercise an influence that would be corruption or other means threaten supremacy of the government itself."

"The placing of such vast interests in the hands of a few men, who absolutely control the destinies of hundreds of thousands if not millions of our population, cannot reasonably be expected to be permanent." The people will rule. They will insist upon the open field and a fair chance. That is the foundation of our government, and no power that is able to seriously interfere with that object will be tolerated."

"The threatened control of our industries and our railroads by small groups of men, organized for purely selfish purposes and having little or no regard for public welfare, has awakened a deep-seated feeling of uneasiness among the masses and is really the chief incentive for most of the socialistic propaganda which is spread broadcast today. Mr. Harrison was a man of vast ability and undoubtedly achieved great results, but the system of excessive centralization in industry for which he prominently stood is in violent conflict with all the principles of this government, which aims at equality of opportunity to all Roosevelt's tremendous popularity in this country was based upon his clear recognition of the fact that public welfare was being frustrated by our great railroad and industrial combinations. His methods of cure may not always have been the wisest, but his purpose was sound and his policy will prove a winning one, although in the rough and tumble of battle more or less injurious agitation and legislation may have to be endured."

"President Taft has evidently sufficient political sagacity to recognize these conditions, and it is quite likely that he will vigorously carry out the Roosevelt reforms. Should he not do so, there is little doubt whatever that Mr. Roosevelt himself will be recalled to perform the task. Therefore our captains of industry and railroad magnates may as well choose as to whether they would prefer to have congress devise a scheme of wholesome regulation of corporations under Mr. Taft's moderate and kindly hand, or whether they would rather take the chances of dealing with Mr. Roosevelt, who would undoubtedly be less gentle and more radical. The choice is with them now; later on it will be with the people if they do not act."

AFRAID OF A SLATE
One of the objections to the commission plan of government is that a slate has already been fixed up and three men selected to fill the offices which they propose to capture while the people are asleep. How any intelligent man can entertain that sort of notion is beyond belief, and yet the argument is used by men who pass for intelligent citizens."

If the plan is adopted the election next spring will be held under the primary law—a law whose principal mission is to smash slates, and break up caucuses and conventions. Under this law any man who desires may be a candidate for any office and there is never a shortage of candidates."

When the commission plan was adopted in Des Moines, Iowa, two years ago, there were 17 candidates for mayor, and twice as many more for commissioners. The businessmen's association, 400 strong, supported men whom they desired to see elected, and every one of them was defeated. The city of Boston recently adopted what is termed the short-ballot plan, which is practically the commission plan, and is just now preparing for an election. Ten commissioners are to govern the city, and 200 candidates have filed nomination papers."

This is the experience wherever the plan has been adopted, and it will be repeated in Janesville. There will be no dearth of candidates. After the primary election the names of the two candidates for mayor, having the largest number of votes, will be placed on the ticket with the names of the four commissioners who have the largest number of votes. From those six men the people elect a mayor and two commissioners."

People who are worried about a slate will do well to ask themselves the question, Who is making the slate? A political slate is dependent upon political organization, and as there is no politics in the commission plan of government it would be difficult to fix up a political slate."

If there is any other organization engaged in the slate business the fact has not come to the surface, and if it should the people would take great delight in smashing it by jumping on it with both feet."

The new plan of government aims to be the people's government. They possess the intelligence and common sense to select from a list of candidates the three best men to serve them, and people who are worried about slates, or about electing poor material for these responsible offices, can well afford to dismiss the worry, and trust the people."

The merger of the American Telephone Co. with the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies is likely to be consummated, and while it will represent a billion-dollar combination it will result in better and cheaper service. The telephone company has over 8,000,000 miles of wire, and the telegraph companies about 2,000,000 miles more. The two systems combined under one management will be able to furnish an excellent service at reasonable prices."

The Toronto labor convention received quite a jolt yesterday, when a telegram was read, stating that the court of appeals in Washington had refused to grant a stay in the Gompers case. The threatened sympathetic strike is not likely to occur as the leaders are too busily engaged with affairs of more importance. The lesson is slow to learn, but the fact is being impressed that the boycott is an unwholly thing."

Francis J. Haney has been obliged to abandon his fight in San Francisco, and will take up legal work for the government in Oregon. Money and political influence was against him, and the rascals higher up will go unpunished."

The coast city needs a moral earthquake. It was bad enough before, but will be infinitely worse under the present administration."

Haverhill, Mass., under the commission plan of government, is to live within the $12 tax limit, and to close the books at the end of the year without having to borrow a cent for regular expense."

Mount Vernon will be the first city in New York to try government by commission, including the "recall."

If you want to help the mine suffer at Cherry, Illinois, to time to do it is now."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A HUMAN DERELICT.

An amiable old man dropped dead on Canal street this morning. There was no money in his desk, shabby clothes, but he was evidently not a drinking man. He could not be identified. The body was taken to the morgue.—Chicago Daily Newspaper.

It is a city commonplace. Life is so cruel to some! Nature is so careful of the type, but so careless of the individual! And the submergence of this old wreck, worn and water-logged, makes scarce a ripple on the wide waters."

Who was he?

The recording angel only knows. He lived perhaps as you and I have lived. There was a happy childhood, and he knew joy and sorrow and love and regret, prospered and failed, loved and despised, worked and saved, made and lost, until the day came when he was alone and friendless and weak and failing."

Were you ever a poor boy in a great city? Men hurry on bent upon their own. Piled tier upon tier in the great commercial palaces are the abundant masses of the swollen fortunes. Happy shoppers fill the great stores. Sated men and women roll luxuriously in costly carriages. While you—

Your head is dizzy as you peer over the verge of the bottomless pit! Behind those plate glass windows are heaped huge pyramids of food, while you faint with hunger. In the crushing sense of the world's cruelty you drink to the lees of life's pitiful troubles."

But to be thus—and old! Here is the alternative—to beg or steal. If you can forget your pride and beg, few will stop and listen. If you steal, they will put you in an iron cell. The law of trade is something only for something."

Synthetic? Charity? The city is too busy. It does not know. There are so many frauds! And the city does not understand or try to understand."

And so, alas for Christian charity under the sun, the "Miserables" go gradually down, down, down, to that lowest plane of life whose outer verge is starvation or suicide or—

What shall become of them unless some tender human heart shall succor? Nature will not help, nor commerce, nor the angels from the skies. Let us open our eyes and hearts lest some of these frail, deserving human beings go down before our very eyes!"

PRESS COMMENT.

Well Perhaps.
The Milwaukee Free Press is disturbed and thinks that the "kamshoo" divorce is likely to encourage the infidelity habit."

One Grand Idea.
The Milwaukee Sentinel finds a popular cord when it says: "Now, all together! Let's get rid of that word 'Xmas'! This year for all time to come."

Yes, and Turkey Too.
The Milwaukee Journal sagely remarks that you won't need an almanac to know that Thanksgiving is drawing nigh if you watch the quotations on turkeys."

Let Us Hope Not.
The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin suggests wisely that the hunters are not shooting many deer in the north woods. Is it because they have used up so much of their ammunition shooting human beings?

A Good Example.
The Appleton Post has something new to say of Oshkosh: "Oshkosh certainly has some generous and unpretentious citizens who are willing to contribute to her well-being. Finding their reward in the consciousness of having done a good deed, in a naughty world."

No, Nor Fool Either.
The Wausau Record-Herald believes that the game law should be amended so that no young boy shall have the right to handle dangerous weapons and thus imperil his own and others' lives during the hunting season or any other time."

Just One Man's Views.
The Milwaukee News remarks that while Wisconsin is progressive and takes to reforms like a duck takes to water, yet it is disposed to look at the tooth of Wall street's gift horse with Mr. Aldrich at the other end of the halter."

Sane Doctrine.
The Appleton Crescent gives good, sane advice when it says: "There is no way of improving a place so much as by encouraging good merchants, good schools and good people to settle among you, and this can not be done unless you spend your money at home."

How About This?
The Waukegan Journal remarks that the new movement is to require school districts to raise money by taxation to supplement the state funds. Some of these raise no money and do not even spend all the state funds for school purposes, but for other uses."

"Fighting Bob."
The Green Bay Gazette realizes that La Follette is fighting against all interests but his own, and states: "Senator La Follette can hardly be misquoted in the statements which he makes in his own paper. His strong terms used in this week's issue sound good to those who have been fighting the money interests in the high places of the government."

Too Bad Too!
The Madison Journal believes that Wisconsin men look good to Harvard. The big eastern school early got Professor Haskins away from us, but he was an eastern man and did not have the close Wisconsin ties that Professor Turner had. For years it has sought to attract Turner away also and apparently persistence is to be rewarded in time."

By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George M. (thev Adams.)

When I look over the misty past, that lies in eternal shade, regrets come over me, thick and fast, regrets for the breads

RETROSPECT I've made. I have faded away many golden years, as though I had years to burn, and out of their ashes I gather tears, but the joys do not return. Dame Fortune knocked at my humble door, with honors and fame and pelf; but I turned in bed with a lazy shiver, and told her to chase herself. I browsed around on the old dead grass, while others were in the fold; I always loaded myself with brass, while others were after gold. And now, alas! in the yellow leaf, I'm busted and down at heel, and I could let out a yell of grief that would make your blood congeal. But away from the molder past I turn, to the future, glad and free, to the skies above, where the red stars burn—and you won't hear a howl from me!"

Dreams Realized.
"My new hat is a dream," said the fashion-er woman. "I wish you wouldn't walk in your sleep to do your shopping," answered her husband."

Congress Well Attended.
The twelfth international congress on alcoholism held in London, was attended by about 1,400 members, including four hundred delegates from abroad."

ALL FORD BODIES ARE INTERCHANGEABLE.
It is a mistake to consider a light car as being unsuitable for heavy roads. A traction engine needs a mighty smooth road, yet a traction engine is nothing more than a heavy weight automobile. Over any and all kinds of roads the Model "T" will run more miles, more days, more years than any heavier car manufactured and it is the lightest of them all. A Model "T" Ford, a duplicate of the Ford car for 1910 won the New York to Seattle Race, the hardest, toughest, most grueling contest ever run, beating from start to finish all the high-priced, high-powered, heavy-weight, competitors. Light weight was very largely responsible for that.

Griffin at Cedarvale.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Griffin of Cedarvale, Iowa, were given a delightful surprise at their home four miles south of the city by about one hundred of their relatives, friends and neighbors in honor of their silver wedding anniversary. Outside weather conditions did not detract from the fun and laughter and the evening was most merrily spent. A delicious supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin were presented with a number of handsome pieces of silver and cut glass by the M. W. A. lodge of Afton and guests.

Among the guests from away were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. F. Spencer, and son of Allen Grove; Mrs. H. Stoney, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Stoney and daughter, Mrs. A. Spaulding, Mrs. J. Van Horn and Miss Aileen Wells of Clinton; Mrs. Jane Withing, J. F. Spohn and F. Blanchard of Janesville. Mrs. Griffin was formerly Miss Elizabeth Decker of Clinton, youngest daughter of the late William Decker.

VLYMEN TOLD CLUB OF EXPERIENCES AT HUDSON CELEBRATION

High School Professor Speaker of Evening at Social Union Club Last Night.

The eighth session of the Social Union club was opened last evening with a banquet and program held in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. The meeting was shortened in order to allow the members to attend other meetings or entertainments in the city, but the session was a very enjoyable one. Prof. William Vlymen of the high school faculty was the speaker of the evening, his subject being "The Historical and Industrial Development of the Hudson River Valley."

At 6:30 a delicious dinner was served to the members by the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. and following this a short business session. T. O. Howe was elected leader of the next meeting and "Janesville's Municipal Problems" was selected as the subject for discussion. It was also decided to change the night of meeting from the third to the fourth Tuesday in the month.

Prof. D. D. Manross was the leader of the meeting. Professor Vlymen was in New York at the recent Hudson-Fulton celebration and witnessed the entire spectacle. His talk dealt with his experiences and views of the great carnival. During the time of the celebration he gathered a magnificent collection of colored slides which were shown on a canvas. The talk was one of great interest to all. Prof. John Bartholomew manipulated the stereoscopic machine and pictures.

TWO VACANCIES IN DEPARTMENT FILLED

Call Men James Shortney and Jules Tetzlaff Have Begun Work as Regular Firemen.

Two of the vacancies in the fire department have been filled by call men, James Shortney taking the position of driver at the Spring Brook station and Jules Tetzlaff taking the place as truckman at No. 1 station, vacated by the resignation of William Conroy. Two more men are needed to complete the list of firemen. There will undoubtedly be considerable difficulty in filling these as the kind of men desired are scarce or unwilling to take the job. No one seeks the work and the chief is still soliciting for desirable applicants.

CONTRIBUTIONS TOTALING $210 TO THE CITY FUND

Were Turned into the Municipal Court Treasury by Ten Females This Morning.

Fines totaling $210 and costs aggregating $26 were collected from ten females in municipal court this morning. Mrs. Robinson pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping a resort on South River street and paid a fine of $35 and costs amounting to $2.60. For being inmates of the place Blanche Russell, Pansy Helmer, and Anna Brown paid $15 fines and costs of $2.60. Stella Whitney paid $35 and costs for conducting a house of ill-repute on North River street and Julia Lindley and Florence Jones each paid $15 and costs for being inmates. Martha Evans was assessed $35 and costs for running a place on Marion street and Edith Carroll and Grace Gordon turned over $15 each and costs. Clara Griffith pleaded not guilty to a charge of keeping rooms for immoral purposes on Bluff street. ## AGED CONTRACTOR DIED LAST NIGHT

Frederick Roeding Succumbed to General Weakness Early This Morning.

Frederick Roeding, Sr., one of Janesville's oldest and most respected citizens, who, since he retired from active life as a general contractor and architect, died at his home, 532 South Main street, this morning at 1:30 from a general breakdown caused by old age and hastened by acute asthma, aged 73.

Mr. Roeding was born at New Ulm, Bavaria, Germany, May 20, 1836, and came to this country in 1866, after having mastered the profession of general contractor and architect.

Upon his arrival in America he came immediately to Wisconsin and at Beloit, Wis., on April 9, 1861, he married Miss Elizabeth Knapfsheld.

After pursuing his profession in this state for some time, he moved with his family to Cleveland, Ohio, where he engaged in general contracting work and also conducted a marble quarry at Marblehead, about twenty miles from Cleveland.

It was during the years that he spent at Cleveland that Mr. Roeding built the first Rosecrans Steel Works that were erected in that city.

In 1890 Mr. Roeding gave up active work and came to Janesville where he has since resided. Although not engaged in general contracting he built the St. Mary's church which will be the chief monument to his labors in this city.

He was an able man in his life work, an upright citizen, loved by all who knew him and his family will have the sympathy of a host of friends in their bereavement.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Roeding, four sons, J. C. Roeding of Alameda, Cal., F. C. Roeding of Alameda, Cal., E. A. Roeding of Chicago, Mrs. W. J. Lathrop of the town of Turtle, and the Misses Laura and Louisa Roeding who will be conducted by Father Gobel at St. Mary's church, Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

ELIOT TALKS ON CONSERVATION

Addresses Municipal Civic Convention on General Phases of Question.
Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—Another joint meeting of the National Municipal League and the American Civic Association was held last evening, with Charles J. Bonaparte presiding. Conservation was the special topic, and Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president of the National Conservation League, was the chief speaker. In his address he showed that the problem of conservation was not only a state and national one, but a municipal one as well. He dealt with the general phases of the question, but especially with those that call for attention at the hands of municipal workers. "The Conservation of Government Land" was discussed by James R. Griffith, who, as secretary of the Interior, was a leading contributor of President Roosevelt in the latter's far-reaching plans for the conservation of the country's natural resources.
Another speaker of the evening was Congressman William E. Bennett of New York, who discussed "The Effect of the Immigrant on Municipal Politics."

Mrs. Steaton Submits.

Doston, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Augusta E. Steaton of New York, accused of "moral impropriety" after a secret conference with the board of directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, here, issued a statement in which she asserts that she bows to the judgments of the mother church directors against her, and, furthermore, that she will obey "my leader" by uniting with those who felt it was right to condemn her in their testimony.

It is with "hand point," more than space and quantity, that make a good advertisement.

CROWD MOBS THAW AS HE LEAVES COURTROOM

He is Returned to Matteawan After Testifying in His Mother's Suit.

New York, Nov. 17.—After he had testified in a suit brought against his mother by Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, the alienist, for $7,000 for services, Harry K. Thaw was mobbed by a crowd that filled the city hall square as he emerged from the supreme court building.
Followed by David N. Carvalho, the handwriting expert; Dr. Amos G. Baker, superintendent of Matteawan, and two guards, Thaw came out of the courtroom immediately after recess was declared. Mr. Carvalho wanted to take him to luncheon at one of the larger downtown restaurants, and they had started in that direction when Dr. Baker interposed none too gently.
After an exchange of bitter personalities Thaw consented to go with Dr. Baker. Meanwhile the crowd pressed about him so that the guards literally had to force a way through. They went to a restaurant in Rensselaer street, the crowd following and blocking the street. Thaw was taken back to Matteawan.

POLICE QUESTION DISCUSSED

National Municipal League Session is Especially Interesting.
Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—The session today of the National Municipal League was of especial interest. After the annual reports of officers had been heard, Miss Grace Abbott of Chicago, director of the League for the Protection of the Immigrant, read a good paper on the immigrant and the municipal problem from the point of view of a worker among the newcomers to the country, urging the necessity of more active consideration of foreign immigration at the hands of municipal workers.
The main topic of the day, the police problem, was taken up first by Prof. Augustus Raymond Hatton of Western Reserve University, Cleveland. He set forth clearly and comprehensively the main features of the police question to be considered by political science students, basing his arguments on a close study of the general features involved. Arthur H. Woods of New York, formerly assistant commissioner of police under Gen. Bingham, followed with a paper on appointments and promotions in the police force, dealing especially on the efficiency of civil service in securing the desired results. Richard Henry Dana of Cambridge, Mass., took up another phase of the civil service question in a paper on "Taking Municipal Contracts Out of Politics."

This afternoon Lawrence Vail of New York spoke on the essential principles of a building code. Dr. Robert C. Brooks of the University of Cincinnati on campaign contributions, Robert Treat Paine, Jr., of Boston, on the elimination of party designations in municipal elections, and several others on the operation of the referendum and the recall.
WARNS AGAINST EXTRAVAGANCE
James J. Hill Thinks Country is on Verge of Ruin.
Washington, Nov. 17.—James J. Hill, railroad magnate, talked to President Taft in a most pessimistic vein about the future of the United States. Hill thinks the country is on the verge of ruin, and all because of the high cost of living and the decreased purchasing power of money.
"History shows," he says, "that the high cost of living is the beginning of every national decline."
This is what Hill said after he left the president. As he made the gloomy remark he shook his head in a dubious way, as though he could hear the first rumblings of the national fall.
"We must economize, economize," declared the railroad president. "Economize both individually and as a government. We are spending too much money. We are too extravagant. We are living beyond our means. The cost of living is way up beyond all reason."

EXTENSIVE CHAMPION KILLED.

Found on Car Tracks with Head Nearly Severed from Body.
Chicago, Nov. 17.—Krogh Collins, for several years western tennis champion, was found dead last night on the car tracks in Erie street, between Franklin and Orleans streets, his head nearly severed from the body and both legs broken.
Some mystery attaches to the death, as no report of an accident was made by the crowd of any of the street cars which pass that point and no one, so far as the police were able to ascertain, had seen Collins run down.

Sunday Schools of Michigan.

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 17.—The forty-ninth annual Michigan state Sunday school convention opened here today with an unusually large attendance of delegates and other visitors. The list of "convention specialists" is particularly strong, including such well-known persons as Grant Colfax Tuller and Isaac H. Meredith, leaders of singing; Hugh Cork, international worker; William A. Brown, missionary to the Philippines; Mrs. H. M. Loyda, Rev. E. Wesley Hulponny, "Moll" Trotter, Lucy Page Ganton, and many others. The sessions will conclude Friday evening.

Two Unknowns Elected Governors

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Of the two men elected over the recent elections in Virginia and Rhode Island, William H. Mann, the new executive of Virginia, although a frequent visitor to this city, is practically unknown out of his state. His narrow margin has eliminated him as a possible factor in Democratic national politics and the frequent scratching of the ballots in his state only indicates that he had the fight of his life to get into office. In Rhode Island, Abram J. Potlter, the republican victor, is well and favorably known. Little has been heard of him by the national politicians, who take little in the politics of this state. Governor Potlter has served one term as chief executive and his re-election is an endorsement of his administration. The party showed a marked gain all over the state and the governor led the ticket.

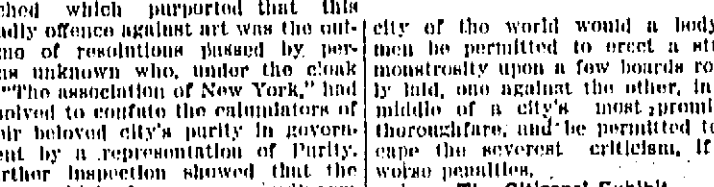

Evidences of the mayoralty fight in New York City.

New York—"Tammany on the square."
"Not Surely not."
"Yes, Long Acre square."

New Yorkers going down Broadway one morn not so long ago, were startled to see rising up like some white vision a fresh statue, seemingly representing a creature in long white robes, which had been dumped in Long Acre square by some band of philistine citizens. Rubbing their eyes and pinching themselves to make sure that they were not still asleep the more venturesome advanced closer and examined the legend attached which purported that this diabolical offence against art was the outcome of resolutions passed by persons unknown who, under the cloak of "the association of New York," had resolved to confute the calculations of their beloved city's purity in government by a representation of Purity. Further inspection showed that the figure which for reasons unknown bore a child, had unfortunately sustained on the said subject three dollops of mud—not metaphorical—but real dirt—while some of the water among the crowd surrounded might possibly mean that some one or other's fair fame was sullied. Two gentlemen who could not agree amicably as to whether the statue represented Sullivan or Murphy were handled somewhat roughly by a policeman, who thought it might be a statue of Liberty erected by the Irish society. The mystery was cleared up somewhat by several worthy citizens who claimed to be responsible, and indignantly inquired why a lover of art (and of purity) might not indulge his fancies in the beautifying of the city which he honored with his habitation. Up to date no lover of art has pertinently pointed out that in no other city of the world would a body of men be permitted to erect a statue monstrosity upon a few boards roughly laid, one against the other, in the middle of a city's most prominent thoroughfare, and be permitted to escape the severest criticism, if not worse penalties.

The Citizens' Exhibit.
Union square has its statue also. But in this case a long-suffering megaphone calls attention to the fact, which unlike "Purity" does not speak for itself. The "committee of one hundred" have established a "chamber of horrors," among the exhibits of which may be seen a representation of the "Lady and the Tiger." There the tiger may be seen, gracefully putting one foot upon an indescribable white figure, which has been labelled for identification purposes "Our City" to distinguish it from the young lady of Niger, and holding the other in the air with an air which his creator fondly imagines is one of terror-striking force. The allegorical group, it need not be explained, represents Tammany and its prey. The tiger bears on its tawny coat such legends as "Inefficiency."

WHY suffer with RHEUMATISM, nervous headaches and other nervous ailments, but circulation and cold feet, when a $1.00 treatment will cure you. All druggists sell a LEGAL BINDING CONTRACT with each sale agreeing to refund the money at the end of a thirty day trial if they are not satisfied or fail to cure.

while to point a moral and adorn its tale, the striking words "Rotten House." That is something for every beholder to take away with him on his visit and ponder over.
"Rotten House!" There is something sinister in the sound of the words, and the thousands of sight-seers who drift in and gaze at the cartoons and statistics, crowding each other out on the walls must perform step in front of this group, which is shielded from the fiery talk which proceeds from the platform in front, by a screen of green balzo, and meditate upon this. Several worthy gentlemen, derive more than inspiration as they sit in front of it and solemnly smoke their pipes, in musings of a political nature with special reference to the internal economics of a city and as to how they would deal with the question in a spirit of fitting liberality.

Handsome Men's Overcoats at $12.50 to $25

Rehberg's stock of men's Overcoats consists of the lines of the best makers in the country. There is no overcoat made to compare in style, fit and material with the famous Hirsch-Wickwire garments. But we carry other good lines, each having distinctive features that are not found in inferior lines.

The stock offers widest choice of selection from chevics, cassimeres, vicundas, Scotch mixtures, kerseys, meltons, etc.

The prevailing shades are the lighter ones in two shade stripe effects.
Military, closed neck, and long coat styles, with touches of the maker's individuality that make them the choice of our best dressers. The "Prata" patented collar shown here is the only overcoat collar that lays absolutely flat when turned down, and forms a high close fitting collar when turned up. No other overcoat collar has this distinction.

Youth's and Young Men's Overcoats, Priced $4.00 to $10.00

This lot includes sizes from 9 years to 17 years. In styles, materials and workmanship similar to above.

IF you had something important to say to 40,000 people, who live in Janesville and adjacent territory, and your whole business depended upon getting it said -

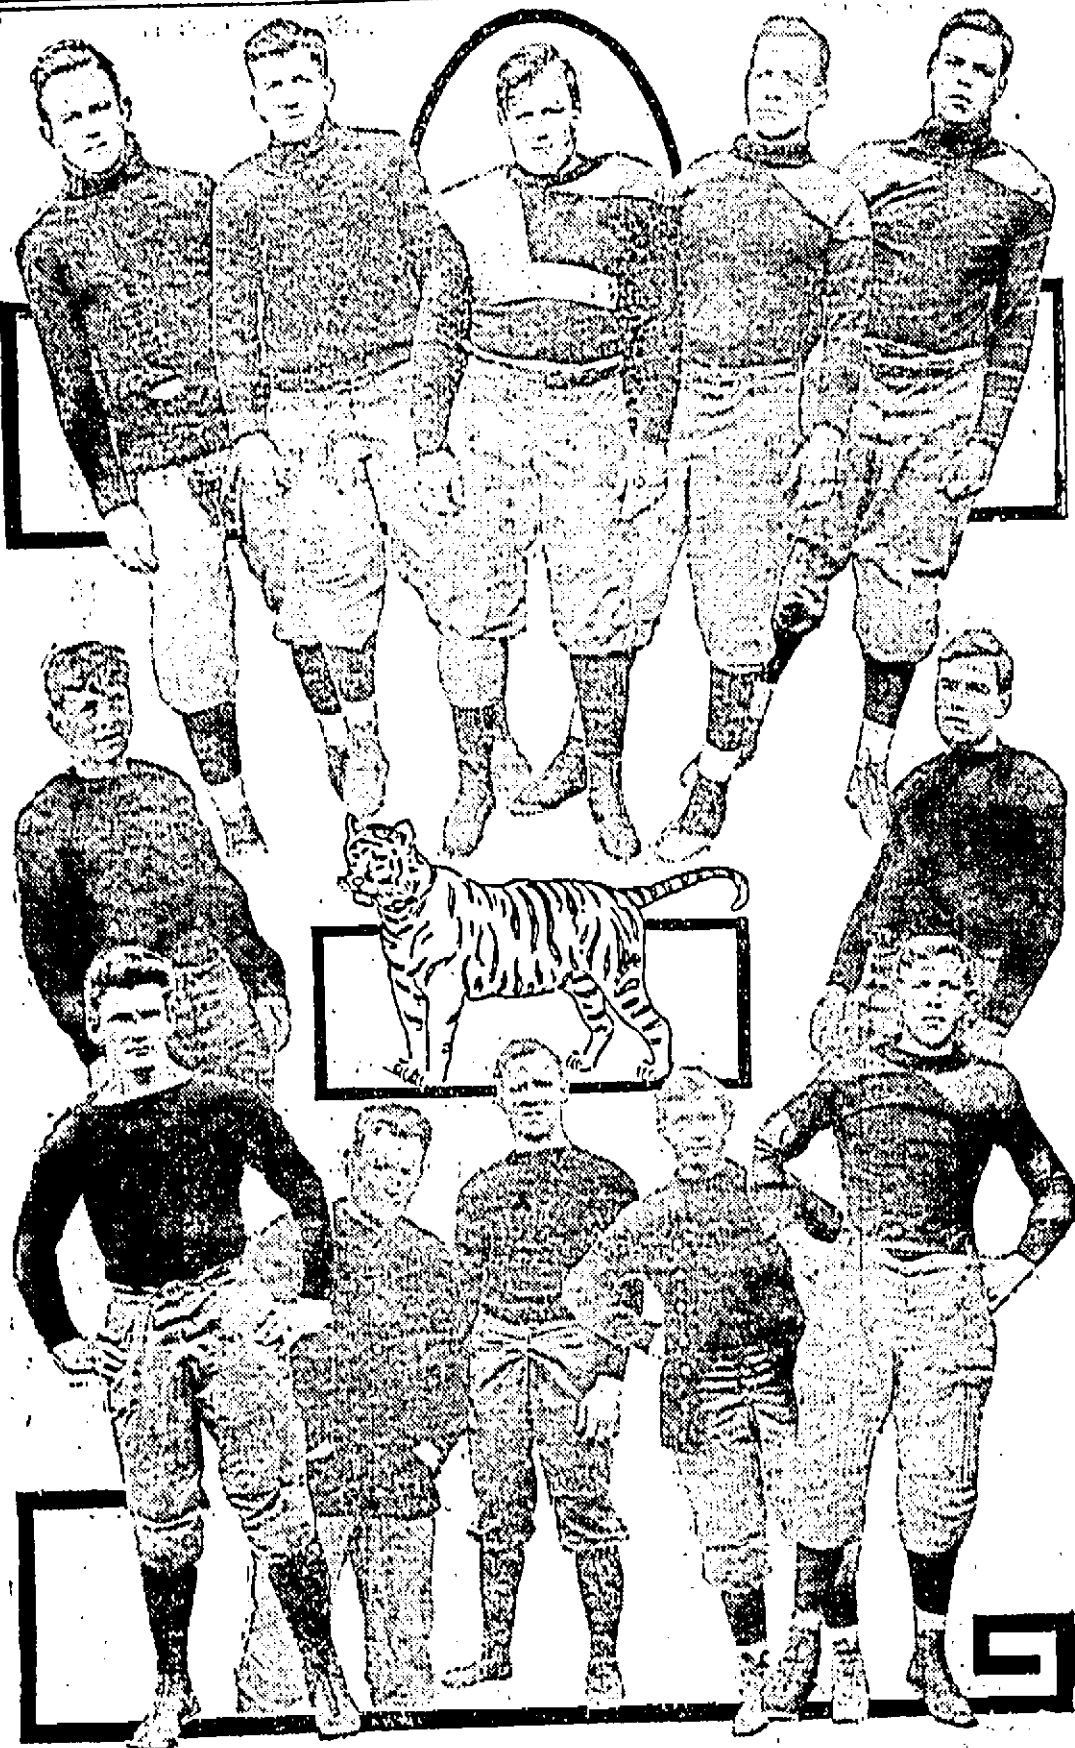

You wouldn't say it vocally, or on the billboards, or in circulars, or in the smaller newspapers; you would use the one Biggest, Fairest medium of all—The Janesville Gazette.

BECAUSE

The Gazette circulation is great enough to reach almost this entire field, and for these same reasons the Gazette carries daily more advertising than all other Janesville newspapers combined. REAR ADMIRAL JOHN E. PILLSBURY.

Lowell, Mass.—This city is preparing to celebrate the home coming of Rear Admiral John E. Pillsbury on the anniversary of his birth, December 15. Recently he has been appointed a member of the Geographic society to determine whether or not the north pole was discovered prior to 1909. He is a graduate of the Naval academy and is known all over the world as an expert on matters of geography and science. He has served in various capacities, which include one year in the hydrographic office and 10 years in the coast survey service. He won fame while investigating gulf stream currents and observing the current with an instrument of his own invention. He established the position of the axis of the stream in the straits of Florida and off Cape Hatteras and determined many of the laws by which its flow is governed.

Hogs Killed Driver.
An unusual tragedy occurred at Chittenden, N. C., in which James R. Hosken, aged 25, lost his life. Hosken, in company with Charles Carter, a well-known farmer, was driving hogs to market along a public highway when the animals became uncontrollable. One of them attacked him and Hosken lost his footing. Other animals immediately jumped on him and gored him with their tusks. Carter ran for help and three men armed with clubs finally drove off the blood-thirsty hogs. Hosken died from the shock and loss of blood. He was a son of a Church of England clergyman at Mansfield, England, and had been in this country but a short time.

Candles of wax that mingle their perfume with that of burning fire. #### POLICE AND CHICAGO CIVIC LEADERS CLASH.

Chicago, Ill.—A desperate battle of wits between the Chicago police department and civic leaders is raging today. The entire city promises to become involved in the controversy, with the possibility of all the heads of departments being beheaded. The trouble originated in the failure of the department to run the bomb throwers to earth. In the policemen's "union" the officers have a formidable weapon with which to fight the crusaders. It is possible there will be a stirring appeal sent to Governor Deneen to include a demand for legislation in his message at the special session of the legislature. He will be asked to request the enactment of a bill empowering the chief of police to discharge any department head at his discretion. The officers held that this would make a veritable czar out of the chief.

Walter Fisher the famous civic leader is taking an active hand in the fight. He has a powerful organization of citizens behind him and he is the kind of a man that fights to a finish.

A study of the constitution and by-laws of the "union" reveals that the whole plan of the organization is copied from that of the policeman's union of New York.

In New York it has been charged the policeman's union possesses and exercises the power of "getting" any police official whose head it goes after. At one time in order to "throw" an unpopular commissioner the whole department went on "strike," disregarding orders for headquarters and enforcing the exorbitant laws so rigorously that the mayor was compelled to remove the unpopular police chief in order to patch up a peace with the politicians who had been driven into a state of frenzy.

It is said that every police commissioner in New York within recent years has owned his downfall to the machinations of the policeman's union and that Police Commissioner Blinham's recent fall was due to the fact that the "union" "got" him.

From the city hall recently have come numerous reports that there is a rebellion among the policemen against certain reforms which Chief of Police Steward is trying to inaugurate. A specific instance was cited three days ago with reference to orders of the chief relative to gambling and the search for the bomb throwers.

by RUTH CAMERON

O YOU realize that every failure—if you know how to build right—is a step toward success?

One of the very best qualifications for success in life is learning how to get the full value out of all your failures.

Maybe the story of a little girl who had a very hard time trying to break into the newspaper business and finally got there only because she knew how to make a failure a success may be suggestive.

For a whole week she had been bombarding the editors of New York city asking for a position.

All of them refused her in one way or another. The end of the week found her very much discouraged. She had but one editor left on her list.

But she wouldn't give up while there was a ghost of chance so she went bravely to him. And instead of outright refusing her he said, "Write something"—which unless you write something extremely clever is equivalent to a refusal.

But that young woman promptly sat down and made her first failure into a very notable success by writing a clever, witty little account of her experiences with the other editors.

It was accepted and she was promptly installed in a position.

That's the way, as the Ladies' Home Journal says. And by way of contrast here is the wrong way.

Another girl whom I know recently sent a poem to "Life." It was accepted. Later she sent another. It was refused. Instead of saying to herself, "What is the matter with that? Wherein wasn't it as good as my first?" she was highly indignant and went around saying that she didn't think there was any system about the way things that were sent in were read and that like as not nobody who knew anything saw that second poem.

Now wasn't that absurd?

Do you do that? Do you blame your failures on other people and on circumstances, or do you sit down humbly before your failures and learn what they have to teach you?

If you are a shop girl and you just failed to sell the piece of goods or the hat do you say to yourself, "Did I say too much or too little, or what," and apply your decision?

If you are a teacher and your class makes a miserable blank the day the fastest member of the school board comes a visiting, do you say, "How did I fail to arouse enough interest to make them study that lesson," or do you say, "Isn't that just the luck?"

To fail in anything is very unpleasant of course. But never to fail in anything.

It is the success built on failures that are the most safe and secure.

Have you failed recently in anything, and have you allowed yourself to get discouraged over it?

Then remember that in every failure is a germ of success and get to busy re-organizing that you won't have time to be discouraged.

For Women and the Home

Never chop, snip in a hot place. Most should not be placed while it is cooking.

Jelly color will roll easier if the edges are pared off carefully. Lichen and mounds will not turn yellow if packed away without being stretched.

Labour exercise is beneficial to health, but outdoor exercise is a great deal better.

A teaspoonful of lemon juice in the water will whiten rice and keep its kernels apart in boiling.

Never wash the face immediately before going out, as it renders the skin more liable to tan and sunburn. Ventilation coming through the country should make it a rule never to drink stagnant water. It is extremely dangerous.

Oil of Citronella, rubbed on the skin of face and hands, will keep mosquitoes and other bloodthirsty insects away until it is evaporated.

When going to the country or the seashore do not neglect to pack a tube of liquid castor-plaster and a jar of carbolic vasoline with your things.

Never add vinegar to any starchy vegetable foods, like potatoes, sweet potatoes, macaroni, rice, chestnuts or the cereals. The acid will make them tough.

A few drops of tincture of benzoin in a bowl of water is an admirable tonic for the skin of the face. The benzoin whitens the skin and prevents it from wrinkling.

If the cups in which custard is to be cooked are buttered before the mixture is put in, it will be a great deal easier to clean them, after the cooking is done.

Sweet olive oil, applied once or twice a day, will greatly improve and invigorate sallow and dead looking complexion and will help to eradicate blackheads and other defects of the skin.

Worms in the soil around the roots of window plants may be disposed of by wetting the earth thoroughly with lime water, using about half a cup of lime to three quarts of barely tepid water.

Colony should be eaten frequently by persons who suffer from rheumatism or gout. It may be eaten fresh or cut in small pieces and boiled until tender in as little water as possible, with a little seasoning.

Japanned ware should be washed with a sponge dampened in warm water and dried immediately with a soft cloth. Chalklike spots can quickly be removed by rubbing them with a wadded cloth dipped in a little sweet oil.

Many people never blue their colored clothes in laundering, but no matter what the color of the materials may be, it will surely come out brighter and fresher looking if a little bluing is added to the rinsing water on the starch.

Dinner Gown.

The exquisite softness of the up-to-date fabrics lends itself so admirably to the drapery used so much this season that the fulkiness which characterized the overkirts and panniers of former periods is lost sight of. The above sketch is of a dinner gown in pale blue peau de cygne. A folded scarf of the material drapes the shoulders, ending at the waist beneath heavy silk embroidery in self-toned which also has the appearance of holding the folds of the draped skirt. Bands of the embroidery finish the bottom of the soft folded sleeve and a wide band of the same crosses the bust. Plastron and deep cuff are of white net, spangled in silver beads.

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

Nature cannot be outraged with impunity. Though a generous giver, she is a hard bargainer, and invariably, in the long run, the man who works too hard, who crowds the work of 40 years into 20, and burns his candle at both ends, will find that he will accomplish less by attempting to overmatch or cheat Nature, than by accepting her own terms. The mind is monarch of the body; but, if it ever so far forgets itself as to trample upon its slave, the slave will rise and smite its oppressor. In all likelihood, the man who toils and molls at business, without relaxation or enjoyment, through the best years of life, with the hope of retiring at last and making the evening of life all holiday, all play, will never retire, except into an untimely grave. The proper remedy for a period of unhealthy living is not working double tides, not an hour or two occupied in drawing off the remaining strength of an overtaxed system, but now and then an entire day or week or month given to renovation and merely physical improvement.

Vacations, frequent holidays, though but for a day, are the true safety-valves of business and professional men; and he who grants himself occasional rest will not only live longer, but do more work than he who drudges from January to December.

ROCKEFELLER MAKES BIG PROFITS ON SALE OF OIL

Statistical Figures They Reach $108,108,000 in Last Seven Years.

New York, Nov. 17.—That the Standard Oil Company has made profits of nearly $100,000,000 in the seven years from 1902 to 1909 is shown by one of Wall street's statisticians. This year's profit is estimated at $80,000,000. The approximate figure, allowing $80,000,000 for 1909, are $593,202,000.

In this time the company has distributed $318,594,300 in dividends. According to Wall street, John D. Rockefeller is supposed to own about a third of the Standard Oil stock. On that basis he got $108,198,000 out of the $318,594,300 paid to shareholders in dividends, or about $1,000,000 more than the capitalization of the company.

For the 17 years since 1882 the net profits of the company are estimated at $1,919,442,064, while the dividends for the same period have amounted to $670,427,300. The surplus after dividends amounts to $329,014,764.

ROBERTS SAYS OUR BANKS LAG

Former Director of Mint Favors Central Bank Plan.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 17.—"Ninety per cent of all the objection now being offered to the central bank plan comes from the bank; they do not apply at all to the kind of central bank that is proposed," declared George E. Roberts, president of the Commercial National bank of Chicago and former director of the mint, in an address delivered at a meeting of the Kansas City Clearing House association.

"The central bank of issue, offers a more comprehensive treatment of the currency problem than any other plan," continued Mr. Roberts. "It provides abundant elasticity under responsible control. It provides a fiscal agency for the government, through which its enormous collections and disbursements may be handled with the least disturbance to the money market. It would give unity and cohesion to our entire banking system, which can be given in no other way. And we are not pioneers in the movement. We are lagging behind all the rest of the world. There is not a country in Europe but has delegated the issuance of its paper currency to a central bank and made it the depository of the public funds."

TURNED DOWN BID OF
MONROE ON SCHOOL

Green Co. Board Defends Motion to Place Training School There
But May Reconsider Ballot.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monroe, Wis., Nov. 17.—The Green county board of supervisors late yesterday afternoon by a vote of 14 to 13, defeated a motion to accept the offer made by the city of Monroe to make the city the permanent location of the Green county training school for teachers. It is stated that two members became confused when the chair ruled against an amendment to defer action for a year and voted "no," intending to vote "yes" on the original motion. The vote consequently is likely to be reconsidered. A roll of the board before the vote was taken gave Monroe a majority of two. Speakers representing Broadhead argued for delay. Monroe offers the school a block valued at $8,000 for a site and quarters. In one of the school buildings until the county gets ready to erect a building. Broadhead offers a number of sites. Burr Sprague strongly presented Broadhead's claims and A. S. Douglass and J. L. Sherron pointed out the advantages of locating the school at Monroe. The members from Broadhead, Albany village and township, Brooklyn village and township, Brownstown, Cadiz, Decatur, Mt. Pleasant, Monticello, New Glarus village, Spring Grove and Washington voted against Monroe. Monroe got the votes of Adams, Char- no, Exeter, Jefferson, Jordan, Monroe town and city, New Glarus township, Sylvester and York.

The Monroe Bowling club has been organized with an attendance of thirty members. J. H. Durrill will be president and D. A. Stearns secretary of the club. It is expected that the membership will be largely increased be- fore the bowling season is far ad- vanced.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Huffman gave a character party for their force of clerks at their home on W. Washing- ton street, about ten being present. The evening was pleasantly passed in playing various games and at a late hour an oyster supper was served. The Misses Anna Adler and Huldah Burg captured the prizes for the best costumes.

Owing to a wreck on the St. Paul road out of Milton yesterday, the train running from Janesville to Mil- waukee Point, due here about noon, did not reach here until two o'clock.

WEDDED YESTERDAY

Miss Myra Allen Whiffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whiffin, was married to J. H. Dugdale of Plattville yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of her parents, 418 Pearl street. Rev. L. G. Cat- chpole of this city performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Dugdale departed on a trip to Chicago and other points. They will make their home in Plattville. Miss Whiffin has been instructor in the public schools for a number of years and is a young lady held in the highest esteem in this city. "CLEVER TRICKERY"
THE DEFINITION

Ethel May Says This Is What Spiritualism Really Is.

"Spiritualism is all trash. In fact I do not believe in it at all nor do I pretend to be in any way a spiritual- istic medium," was the somewhat as- tonishing statement of Miss Ethel May when asked if her mysterious power of divination and mind reading was the result of her ability to get into communication with the spirit world.

"I think that this so-called spirit control is nothing but clever trickery. How to explain the power that I possess of divining what question is in the mind of any members of my audience and telling him what will be the answer, that I cannot do. No one can explain or account for it, but that I do have this power can be seen by the results of my work. No one has ever yet caught me in any trickery, nor will they ever do so, for that is something to which I never resort. In my case it is unnecessary. Since I have reached the age of eleven I have been developing this gift of mental tele- pathy and the power to read the future, but how it is done is beyond my com- prehension. All I know is that I am seldom wrong."

These surprising assertions by the young lady who has been puzzling skeptical spectators at the Myers Theatre during the past two evenings, have not added to the mystery of her act, but rather have increased it. To read the mind of those who have written questions on a pad of paper and still retain their written inquiries, is re- volutionary, to say the least, but to answer them without hesitation and in the main with the greatest accuracy, is still more astonishing. It is hard to conceive of communicating half way across the earth without wires, as is done by the wireless telegraph, and it is still harder to think of Miss May establishing invisible mental com- munication with her questioner.

Convinced on the part of the spec- tators as to the question, her own Miss May's personal appearance and the great fact that she is in league with the powers of darkness, for her slight form, heavy mass of golden hair and sparkling blue eyes are distinctly of this world. It is almost an un- known fact that there are no guiding angels hovering about her to impart the de- sired information, so that the only ex- planation possible is that her gift is purely physical, even if rare and mys- terious. Whatever it is, Miss May has succeeded in attracting the attention of all who have witnessed her per- formance, and even the most skeptical are at a loss to explain her feats.

COMPANY PLEASAS A VERY LARGE AUDIENCE

"The Fatal Coin" Given by the Max- well-Hall Stock Company Last Evening.

Justin Adams' stirring drama of "The Fatal Coin," with its numerous stirring scenes brought under a round of applause from the audience at the Myers theatre last night when the Maxwell-Hall Stock company presented the third of their repertoire of popular plays. It can easily be seen from the size of the audience and the reception that they have accorded the two plays thus far presented, that this capable com- pany have been fully appreciated by lovers of melodrama in this city and that the remainder of the bill will meet with the reception it deserves.

An excellent plot, with the drawing of the fatal coin, the separation of brother and sister, and the consequent foiling of the death plot by the fact that the one destined to carry out the death sentence falls in love with the woman whom he has been directed to kill form the main dramatic in- cidents of the plot, while the comedy is furnished by the faithful and virtuous Irishman. With regard to the presentation of the play, the work of the members of the company was fully up to the standard set at the opening performance. Miss Matfield was as beautiful and compelling in the role of the Russian girl "Irene" as she was in the character of "Taisa." Frederick Lund as "Fedor Terlikoff" makes an ideal hero and lover while Jefferson Hall as the tyrannical Rus- sian captain, "Paul Grigorovich" is as wicked as "Fedor" is manly, or "Brian O'Day," Chie Harvey, is light-hearted.

The vandeville turns introduced be- tween acts, especially that of "Ethel May," grow steadily in popularity and in fact equal the turns even at any house presenting variety exclusively. Miss Matfield, who is a graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music, and an accomplished pianist, has consented to put on her pianologue again at one of the performances during the latter part of the week. This is the turn that made such a decided hit on Monday night. In addition to this, Miss May will give a special matinee for ladies Friday, when she will an- swer questions that the fair ones are too timid to make public in the pres- ence of the sterner sex.

MIDWINTER FAIR IN BAPTIST BASEMENT

Attracted a Throng of Spectators Last Evening and All Were More Than Well Rewarded.

Carnival is king at the Midwinter Fair, which opened at the Baptist church parlors last evening and forty acres of fun and color have been roped into a howling array of adven- tures and attractions. In the open air the penumbrous pilgrim en- joyment "St. and Samanthay," the solo survivor of the German band, Mrs. Lenora Howman in the role of the blind organ grinder who was maimed for life in a thrilling encounter with a harking powder biscuit, and nume- rous brilliant megaphone artists who lend their attractions with a jovial howl.

Miss Belle Stoddard as "Mary, Quite Contrary" presides over a marvelous table bed from which quaint prizes may be pulled for a consideration. Miss Mina Coter as "Ho-Peep" drives a thrilling trade in ice cream cones. The Mesdames John Whiffin and E. C. Bailey have charge of the "Old Oaken Bucket" lemonade stand. Miss Nellie Smiley operates a doll rack and Miss Mary Barker an inviting, if creepy, whirligig. W. B. Conrad is the mys- tifier in charge of the "Red Hot" am- phorium and is assisted by Louis Gage and Miss Mary Gage. A. S. Shurtliff juggles with hot taffy in the same quarter. Miss Gertrude Stoddard, the Misses Gertrude Shurtliff, The Mes- dames Stanley Smith and B. P. Dun- widdie have charge of a very attrac- tive fancy work booth. Mrs. Mabel Leotle and Mrs. Charles Mohr dis- pense popcorn and peanuts, and the Mesdames T. B. Nolan and J. B. Humphrey have charge of the pump- kin show and home cooking exhibit. Antiques of unquestioned authenticity are sold by Mrs. A. C. Campbell and Miss Dunwiddie.

Only "Mme. Voleska," the palmar- ist and seeress, sends customers away with troublesome thoughts. She gives profound readings that contain more truth than battery, and is the sensation of the house. In real life the oracle is Miss Dulce Rotherham. Her assistant is Miss Mae Humphrey.
Before Mrs. Roy Wilson's peerless congress of the "Daughters of All Na- tions" the spectator stands in mute awe and admiration; or at most emits a breathless "Oh!" of admiration. Where did Stanley Dunwiddie, the tall golden girl, get those Mexican shawls and Indian dainties? Notice the hand made and the face of Lon- ley, the Norwegian belle, and the Nor- way Woodcut! And that Nile dance of John Henderson, the Egyptian trophy! Scandalous! Harvey Haller as "Laughing Hubbles," the Indian Maiden, executes much the same step. Arthur Baumann, the dreamy little madden from the Zuyder Zee could shuffle some with those big wooden sandals, but won't. Charles Tallman is the staid American beauty. If the dress reformer hurls him he gives no sign. Edgar Crissey is the Colonial girl and Leslie Bailey, the Scotch lassie.

Behind another curtain is the "boothling" squad exhibited by Mrs. Fred Burpee and Mrs. Frank Parnsworth. Rather precocious in- fants, those, Miss Ethel Roberts is nurse and the "squawking" chorine consists of the Misses Maryline Ben- nett, May Granger, Ruth Humphrey, Dorothy Wilcox, and Lorence Howman.
The "shadowgraph" studio where the stroller's self-complacency and vanity at last hit the bumps is con- ducted by Mrs. George Fatzinger and Mrs. George Bremer. The Misses Fay Antidole, Lucy Granger, and Beth McDonald take votes for the most picturesque young lady and guesses may be had on the number of seeds in a mysterious pumpkin. The whole show is elaborately costumed; staged, appointed, and decked with remark- able ingenuity; and well worth a few trifling grooves in the exchequer—for a good cause.

DANCE GIVEN BY IMPERIAL BAND DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

Party Held in Assembly Hall Last Evening Enjoyed by About One Hundred Couples.

A most delightful dancing party, a band dance given by the Imperial band and the Knott & Hatch orches- tra, the first one of the season, was held last evening at Assembly hall. About one hundred couples attended the affair and the dancing lasted from nine until one o'clock. Two steps and waltzes predominated but a very en- joyable feature was the "star" dance, the lights being switched off and on. The hall was most tastefully decorated, Claude Fredendall having charge of the work. The musicians' stand was moved to the center of the floor, directly under the central chandelier. From the four corners of the room strings of electric light globes were hung, producing a brilliant and pretty effect. From the chandelier in the center of the ceiling was suspended the "fire ball," a large globe thickly studded with electric lights.

ST. PAUL MINE STILL BURNING

Experts Abandon All Hope of Bringing Entombed Miners Out Alive.

OPENINGS ARE ALL SEALED

THERMOMETERS CANNOT REGISTER INTENSITY OF HEAT IN BURNING SHAFT.

SOLDIERS REACH CHERRY

Three Companies of Militia Are Ordered to Scene of Disaster to Preserve Order When Bodies of Victims Are Brought Out.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 17.—Gov. Deneen last night ordered two companies of state militia to Cherry, having been informed by Sheriff Skoglund and State's Attorney Eckert that, in consequence of the entombing of 310 miners in the St. Paul mine, there exists serious danger of riots.

Despair seized the rescuing party trying to free the dead and dying men entombed in the mine as all skill, science and bravery have failed in the fight for life.

Eighty-three hours of battling have only added to the awfulness of the disaster. Twice have the rescuers been worsted by the fire. One more desperate attempt will be made by the fire fighters today. If that too fails, the women and children and the rescue party will settle down for the long race between fire, smoke, gas and starvation on one side and life on the other.

Experts Abandon Hope. Hope has already been abandoned by some of the experts. A few think some of the men are safe and still will live for weeks yet. But all are praying for a miracle to liberate the miners from their death trap cells underground.

Black, blinding cold sweeps the big mound on which the shaft houses are reared like dark headstones. A sprinkle of snow with its white symbolism of hope, fell on the grave.

Bitter winds that moaned and shrieked through the big iron structures did not stop the vigil of the women. For three days and four nights they have watched beside the shafts for the missing men. They mourn the men as dead but love keeps hope faintly alive in their hearts. Fire still rages in the mine making it a thousand furnaces. The mine is still sealed, shutting out the air that gives life to men below. Shaft piled high on the shaft battering, is still hot, a thermometer lowered a few feet quickly registered 190 degrees, the limit on the instrument. What the heat really is 300 feet down at the second level can only be guessed.

Chicago Marshal in Charge. Two leads of hose were turned into the shaft. Fire Marshal Moran of Chicago took charge of the fire fighting apparatus when he arrived here. "It's too late to save the men," he said. "The women and children are the ones to be cared for. I've done what I could, but it's no use. No one can go down that red hot shaft now. It's awful."

There was a three-hour conference of the experts to discuss action. There was a division of sentiment. Some said all the men were dead and wanted to wait until the fire was out. Others demanded that the fire be fought day and night until the men, dead or alive were all taken out.

It was decided to make the fight for the men's lives. Only the warning of Marshal Moran that it would be death for whoever entered the shaft last night postponed the descent for a day.

Determination of the rescuers to give their own lives in the relief work has not, however, kept up the hopes for the imprisoned men.

President A. R. Newsum of the state mining board found all the men will be dead when found. His own nephew, George Davis, is in the mine.

Funeral of Victims Held. Grief was given an added keenness by interments. The first funeral of the victims here were held from the Congregational church.

Pay checks made out to imprisoned men were paid to their families. And hunger proved as compelling as sorrow to the children. Not since Saturday dinner has there been hot food in any of the stricken homes. Mothers have been at the mine day and night, leaving the smaller children at home.

Everyone of the 400 probable orphans were given their dinner at the Congregational church. Their ravenous hunger showed how want has added to the horrors of the time. Unparing criticism of the men in charge of the mine during the fire Saturday and of the different attempts of the experts since to relieve the miners has received official recognition. Prof. Graham Taylor, representing the commission of the investigation of mining conditions, is gathering evidence, some of which shows criminal carelessness.

He listened to the theory of Andrew Mayzelski, who says cinders and bones refused to help the men escape during the fire. He is collecting information that may deter.

Save money—read advertisements.

mine who was responsible for the disaster and which may lead to changes in the mining laws.

Militia Ordered Ready. Militia is said to have been ordered ready to put Cherry under martial law when the removal of the dead from the mine begins.

Relief work reached scores of lesser tragedies interwoven with the big one of the mine. For three days and four nights Mrs. A. Illnes has haunted the main shaft kneeling in prayer on the hot sand that shuts out the air and calling for "Willie, my baby boy." She became frantic from exposure and worry and deputies had to force her to go home, where Red Cross nurses took charge of her.

Mrs. James Shears, 33, with grief over her missing husband, was found half-starved in her home with her six children cuddled about her on the bed, blue from cold, weeping and too weak from hunger to go for help.

There was no money in the house as the mother had not thought to claim her husband's pay.

The general gloom was lightened only by the cheerful aid of farmers, mine-owners and other citizens. Plentiful supplies and funds are on hand but the distribution has just begun.

Mine Was a Death Trap. Discovery that a systematic secret investigation of the awful mine disaster here and especially of the mine itself, in which more than 300 men are entombed, has been successfully carried on under the noses of the officials of the St. Paul Coal Company and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad and without regard to the activities of the state mining commission or the attitude of the authorities of Harrison county caused a sensation.

The investigation has been carried on by 40 miners, among whom are some of the employees of the coal company, who themselves worked in the pit of death, which they say was reported "as the safest mine in the state of Illinois."

In a statement, giving some of the discoveries about the mine made by the secret inquiry, President McDonnell openly challenges the assertion that the mine was safe. The secret inquiry may be the basis of legal action, both civil and criminal.

"Shoes, underclothing and quantities of women's and children's garments are urgently needed for the families of the victims of the mine disaster. Also money is necessary to take care of these people during the winter," declared E. P. Hicknell of Washington, director of the National Red Cross society, after a conference with the charity workers gathered here.

The appeal was telegraphed to various cities in surrounding states, and soon afterwards responses came that supplies would soon be on the way.

Headquarters were established here, from which charity will be distributed systematically.

CABINET TO PROBE THE FALSE ENTRIES

CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION INTO SUGAR TRUST SCANDAL IS PROBABLE.

CABINET DISCUSS FRAUDS

Such Officers and Directors as Can Be Reached Will Be Vigorously Prosecuted by Wickersham and MacVeagh.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The cabinet at its first full meeting since the return of President Taft, discussed at length the "sugar trust" scandal in New York.

Attorney General Wickersham and Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh explained that the rigid investigation into the New York frauds had really just begun. As a result congress may take a hand in the whole matter by naming a committee of investigation to go to New York and see how many million dollars have been stolen by the making of false entries. This information filtered out after the meeting adjourned.

Will Push Fraud Suits. Attorney General Wickersham and Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh are intrusted with the work of investigating the frauds and prosecuting such of the officers and directors as can be reached. Under these circumstances the matter is one with which those two cabinet officers and the president alone have to deal, and it will be the subject for further conference between them.

The cabinet session lasted for two hours and forty minutes. It was interrupted at a written statement might be given out at the time of adjournment, but none was forthcoming.

Congress to Name Committee. There seems little doubt but that a congressional committee will be appointed to investigate the whole subject of the sugar frauds and customs house corruption in New York. It seemed to be taken for granted that the very first day of the coming session will witness the introduction of a score or more of resolutions calling for such investigation, and that it would not be likely that any great opposition would be shown to the passage of some of them.

Trust Men Plead Not Guilty. New York, Nov. 17.—A plea of not guilty to the indictments charging them with conspiracy and effecting and aiding in effecting entries of sugar at this port by false weights, was entered by James P. Bendersnagel, former general manager and superintendent of the Williamsburg plant of the American Sugar Refining Company, and six minor employees of the company, jointly indicted with him.

JAIL WARRINER AND MRS. FORD

Woman Arrested in Connection with Man's Embezzlement Case.

Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—Charles L. Warriner, former fiscal treasurer of the Big Four railroad, is in jail and a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Mrs. Jeannette Stewart-Ford, on a charge of receiving $1,000 of the $613,000 which Warriner is accused of having embezzled.

The warrant against Mrs. Ford was issued upon application of Prosecutor Hunt, who had been informed by Warriner that he had given part of the money he is alleged to have abstracted to Mrs. Ford and that the last payment he had made was on October 1.

Warriner's bail was fixed at $20,000 and the four friends who had come to his assistance when first arrested did not put in an appearance and the former treasurer was compelled to go to jail.

Later Mrs. Ford was arrested and placed in jail in default of bail.

NEW METHOD OF MAKING STEEL

Secret Process Invented by Blacksmith Is Sold to Trust.

Gallipolis, O., Nov. 17.—A new secret method which is said to be able to save the United States Steel corporation at least $1,000,000 a year has just been sold by Mason Grover, village blacksmith at Midway, a little town near here, for $200,000 and royalties.

The plan is to convert iron ore into steel by a simple process, and this will do away with much of the mechanism now used and the long time employed in this transformation work.

Mr. Grover has been a poor man all his life and can read to the extent of his name. He has been testing his various devices for many years and this one will make him wealthy.

College Boys to Fly.

Boston, Nov. 17.—Air navigation having been simultaneously added to the sporting curriculum at Harvard university and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the next thing on the program is a contest between representatives of the two institutions.

Enough money was turned in by the students who have made the teams at the two colleges to pay for several gliders and an aeroplane.

Switchmen Demand Better Pay.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Switchmen representing every railroad entering Chicago will join hands with fellow workmen employed on roads entering St. Paul from the west in a wage conference to be held here on November 19. This meeting follows an attempt by the switchmen of the Northwestern railroads to obtain wage increases at several conferences held in St. Paul.

AWAY GOES DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, STOMACH GAS AND OTHER MISERY

Take a little Diapiesin now and your stomach will feel fine five minutes later.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiesin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

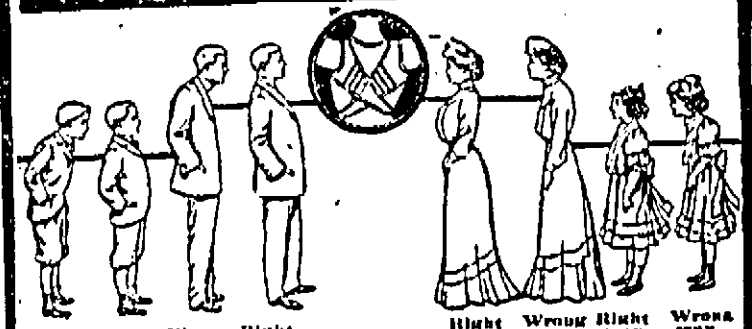

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such ailments as Bloating of Gas, Eructations or sour undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and Dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe there is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intermixes, and, besides, poisons the breath with nauseous odors, sours the appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapiesin.

Answer This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Red Banks, Miss.—"Words are inadequate to express what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from a female disease and weakness which the doctors said was caused by a blood tumor, and I commenced to think there was no help for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman after all other means had failed. My friends are all asking what has helped me so much, and I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Willie Edwards.

Hampstead, Maryland.—"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was weak and nervous, and could not go on my feet half a day without suffering. The doctors told me I never would be well without an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors, and I hope this valuable medicine may come into the hands of many more suffering women."—Mrs. Joseph H. Dandy.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

No. 44—The Second Wife

When Heinrich's first wife died, a couple of years ago, there wasn't much sympathy for the bereaved husband. The neighbors said that he always treated her cruelly. He celebrated his birthday about once in six weeks, and then he would take home a denizen of the old staff, and he generally wound up the festivities by chiding his wife with a chair. A few months ago he married again. Everybody wondered why any woman would marry a man with such a record, but the woman in this case knew her business. One morning the neighbors heard a great racket in Heinrich's humble abode, and they took it for granted that he was at his old tricks, and they called the police. When the officers arrived they found Heinrich on the floor, with most of the furniture piled on him, and the bride was fanning his feet with a fire shovel. It was really scandalous, the way Heinrich yelled. The police realized that no interference was necessary, and returned to their usual sleeping places. It is on record in the town where this happened that Heinrich has been as straight as a string ever since. He has cut out the birthday, and even on circus day he takes nothing stronger than chicken water. It is possible that a great many abject and miserable women might later their own condition, and aid the cause of reform, by reading up some of the standard text-books treating of the proper use of rolling pins and pump handles and kindred weapons.

Descending the beaten path, they ascended through forests of trees of every description, but as they proceeded along the path, in places ankle deep in wet moss, and pushed through underbrush that kept Smith busy breaking a way for his dainty but hardly and seemingly tireless companion they came into the air region, and the height of the trees seemed to form pillars for the canopy of the heavens. Emma regarded the great trees with awe, but Smith laughed. He told her they were as saplings compared with the mighty trees of the west. He tried to describe these and became filled with the fever of immensity. The long unfeeling influence of the borderless prairies, the mammoth mountain chains far flung through the prodigious spaces of the sunset lands that diminished their proportions, was upon him. His soul strained to burst its toilers and soar upward into the infinite, where it could expand untrammelled. Burning words, never used, unimagined before in his unlettered mind, adequate to depict this liberated spirituality, surged tumultuously to his lips to die there.

For the source of their inspiration, of this tremendous flight into the divine azure from his regulated role of the commonplace and coldly practical, was the woman at his side, the one being in the world who was dear to him and ever had been, whom he held in little less reverence than he did his Maker.

He broke off his description of the forest giants and vast freedoms of the west with a conclusion in his ordinary street surface language.

"But there's no use me trying to do any lecture platform stunts. I wasn't born with the gift of the gab. Emma, then things have got to be seen to be appreciated. There's no other way. You understand."

Yes, Emma understood. She had listened to his brief, unexpected eloquence and had read his soul in the light of the celestial flicker that had emanated from it; had seen the glory of it in his face—a glory transcendent as a beacon flash, that was gone from it, leaving only his habitual noncommittal smile, as he turned to her and said, "You understand."

They continued the climb in silence, Emma's bosom rising and falling rapidly upon the rush and swirl of the torrent that raged beneath it, almost sweeping her self control before it. Jimmy indeed loved her! Why had this chance revelation of what her intuition had divined long before torn upon the floodgates of her own emotions? Because it had set vibrating every chord of her being, and every chord of that being, as she had come to understand also, was attuned to his. Together they had beheld the miracle of heaven.

At the upper edge of the forest labyrinth they emerged on to a rocky plateau studded with dwarfed firs and balsam pines, but covered thickly with aromatic ferns and blueberry bushes.

Jimmy bared his head to the cool breeze that swept the clearing and watched Emma, who, with a little cry of delight, had stooped among the blueberry bushes and was gathering a handful of their ripe fruit. She was glad of the pretext to hide the upheaval in her heart that she felt must show in her eyes.

This unheated, sudden and glowing CHAPTER XXI.

As she had grown wise and come to look upon Jimmy's visits as pleasant breaks in the monotony of her existence, however, she had obtained glimpses of his inner self, flashes of the profundity of his mind, an inkling of his elevation of sentiment that escaped him, in spite of himself, quite unconsciously. Her woman's keen perception had divined a spirituality that was buried purposely by speech and conduct. This had interested her and given her food for thought, but she could find no satisfactory explanation. The clew to the mystery, which, truth to tell, interested her but mildly, had come to her first on the evening of her husband's attack on Captain Williams in the little Harlem flat, when, after he had let fall and smashed the cup, he had remarked a little ruefully that he had let slip everything he had ever had in his life that was worth while. The confirmation of her deduction that his unrequited love for herself had been the death of ambition and accounted for his aimless, lonely existence, which she had been inclined to reject as absurd, was obtained on that momentous night just before her husband extinguished utterly and forever the few embers of love for him that still were alive. After he had told her the story of his life in his quaint, everyday speech and her heart had gone out to him in that burst of irrepressible sympathy the consternation this had caused him had uncovered his secret as in a book, for in that moment she had seen beyond the mere start of timid modesty.

Later, after the shock of Brooks' action had ceased to obsess her and he had receded further and further toward a memory, she had set free her imprisoned inclinations. Once more her rejuvenated fancy had taken wing to the heights of the ideal and romantic. Somehow it had come to associate, somehow it had come to associate Jimmy with its excursions. Possessed Jimmy with its excursions. Possessed Jimmy with its excursions. Possessed Jimmy with its excursions.

She brought a heap of blueberries to him and poured them into his joined hands, and they seated themselves on a rock to eat them and to rest.

"This is the most enjoyable picnic I've had in years," he said merrily. "It was quite an inspiration of yours to run up to visit us. Why don't you come often instead of spending your week ends in the hot city? You ought to take a vacation and stay here for a few weeks."

"I'd like to awfully," he told her, "but the fact is I'm too busy to think of getting away. Williams is piling a whole lot of work and responsibility on me these days. Williams, you know, isn't what you'd call an easy boss. If he values a man's salary he sees to it that he gets his money's worth. He simply won't be bothered, even with matters that don't precisely details."

The man who tries to conceal faulty goods by extensive advertising reminds me of the farmer who put his trousers on backwards, to take the bag out of his knees. All he got was two more bags—and he had to pay a tailor's bill at that.

overpoweringly violent though it was, was not of the morning's forming. She had known the calm, sympathetic westerner—as he had reminded Captain Williams—over since she was a girl in short frocks. She had soon come to look upon him as a big brother, with whom she shared her girlish troubles and in whom she confided freely, naturally, as a matter of course. When she had become a woman and he had sought her for his bride she had not been able, with all her liking for him, to bring herself to consider him in the light of a lover.

After the scales formed there by the blandishments and personal pulchritude of Brooks had fallen from her eyes and she saw that she had bowed down to an empty, painted fetish of plaster instead of to God in the flesh who had resigned herself to the lot destiny had brought her and sought to make the best of it like the pure woman she was. Household drudgery and the stern verities of her existence had vanquished and put to flight all her illusions. Love was a delusion. It was not what she had conceived it to be. It existed in perfect, ideal form only in the imaginings of the poets and literatures. Had any one suggested to her that Jimmy Smith was the depository of it, that his heart was the altar on which the sacred fire burned unquenchable, that under the crust of his unemotional manner was a quiescent volcano of passion that could be roused to stupendous eruption, she would have laughed.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy has placed copies of the Bible in its libraries of its best trains. In this respect, according to officials of the Chicago Bible society, the American roads have followed the initiative taken by the Scotch railway companies. # How Much Have You Lost?

How much time does your bookkeeper spend entering incoming cash items in the Cash Book?

The answer to that question, together with the amount of salary your bookkeeper draws, will tell you just what it costs you to enter those items. And it will tell you the amount of money it will save you to install the "Burroughs Cash Received System," which will do away with the journalizing of cash forever.

Let Us Show You How to Save It.

Keeping records is necessary work, but unproductive work. Every new record made cuts the profits of the business by just so much. It has been ascertained that in many large concerns it costs nine cents to keep track of every item of debit or credit in connection with the business.

It is costing you, too, a part of your profits, whether your business be large or small. It probably does not cost you nine cents an entry, but it is costing you more than it need cost unless you are using the Burroughs system. It is costing you for every entry your bookkeeper makes in journalizing cash, and it is costing him too, in time which he might spend more profitably.

You have been losing money—you are losing money every time your bookkeeper enters incoming cash items in the cash book. For that is unnecessary work, which we can show you how to avoid.

What Users Say About the Cash Received System

HARDWARE MANUFACTURERS

"We have been using the Burroughs Cash Received System in connection with your No. 15 machine for over a year, and believe it to be the best system that we ever adopted in our office."

"It not only affords a great saving of time, but it is a positive check on our work and proof against errors."

"Next to the Burroughs itself, we consider the Cash Received System our greatest time-saver, and we cannot thank you enough for bringing the matter to our attention at the time we installed the machine."

THE ROOT BROTHERS CO.

Plymouth, Ohio. J. A. Root, Treas.

SHOE MANUFACTURERS.

"It seems to be the opinion of our Accounting Department that you rendered us a genuine service so far as the plan for handling cash receipts, which you installed here, is concerned. We have used it now for four months without a hitch of any sort, and the time saving as well as the accuracy phases of the idea must be apparent to anyone."

Detroit, Mich.

The Pingree Co.

WHOLESALE JEWELERS.

"We take great pleasure in stating that after several months practical application of the Burroughs Cash Received System we are prepared to give it our highest endorsement, being superior to the old way in more ways than one, namely—a saving of an average of two hours daily, and an absolute check on the ledger postings and deposit."

"We are handling all cash disbursements in like manner with the same satisfactory results. It goes without saying that the use of the Burroughs in connection with the new method makes less liability to error."

"We therefore cheerfully sanction the use of our name in connection with your advertising of the system."

The E. & J. Swigart Co.,

Cincinnati, Ohio.

Per C. C. Cannon.

VEHICLES AND FURNITURE

"We consider the use of the Burroughs Cash Received System a great improvement over the old way, in fact we consider it worth the purchase of an adding machine for that item alone, if for no other."

Toledo, Ohio

The Grendon Wheel Co.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

"For some considerable time past, our bookkeeper has been handling his incoming cash items under your Burroughs Cash Received System, and we are pleased to report that it is proving entirely satisfactory and, if anything, more accurate and errors more easily traced than the old, regular bookkeeping system under which he was doing his work."

"He reports that the labor under the Burroughs Cash Received System is not, in his opinion, over one-half of what it was in transacting that part of the work as he had previously been doing."

La Crosse, Wisconsin.
